RARE BOOK AUCTION

Wednesday 16th August 2017 at 12:00pm noon.

VIEWING:

Sunday 13th August 11:00am – 4:00pm

Monday 14th August 9.00am – 5.00pm

Tuesday 15th August 9.00am – 5.00pm

The sale includes an important archive relating to John Turnbull Thomson [1821-1884] Chief Surveyor of Otago and the first Surveyor General of New Zealand, it features historical manuscripts, paintings and sketches concerning the early history of Otago, Southland and New Zealand.

From 1856-1858 Thomson travelled extensively on horseback surveying and exploring large tracts of the interior of the South Island, documenting these journeys in his field books with sketches and maps, which he later used to complete watercolours.

The papers also include historical photographs, scrapbooks and research material from F.W. Hall-Jones and John Hall-Jones historians, authors and explorers.

Other major items

Omai – A Native of the island of Utieta. A rare mezzotint after Sir Joshua Reynolds engraved by John Jacobi. London 1789.

Two miniature paintings of William Mackworth attributed to his wife Juliet Valpy. William Mackworth was Colonial Administrator to the Hardwicke Settlement at Port Ross on the Auckland Islands.

A Native of the Island of Utieta
 Painted by Sir Joshua Reynolds. Engraved by John Jacobi. Mezzotint. London 1789. Trimmed around the plate mark, a very good impression, 620 x 390mm.
 Reynolds portrays Omai as an exotic figure echoing Rousseau's concept of a noble savage. He is wearing a white turban, flowing white robes with naked feet and tattooed marks on his hands.
- Portrait of Omai a Polynesian visitor to England in the 18th century. From the island of Raiatea, he left the Society Islands with Commander Furneaux on his ship HMS Adventure. Furneaux's ship left England in 1772, accompanying Captain James Cook on his second voyage of discovery in the Pacific, and visited Tahiti and Huahine in 1773. After visiting New Zealand, Omai arrived in England in July 1774.*
Omai was admired by London Society, staying with Sir Joseph Banks and meeting King George III, Dr Samuel Johnson and other English celebrities. He returned to the Pacific with Cook's third voyage arriving back on the island of Huahine in 1777. He stayed behind after Cook left and died there in late 1779.

JOHN TURNBULL THOMSON & HALL JONES ARCHIVE

John Turnbull Thomson [10 August 1821-16 October 1884] was born at Glororum in Northumberland, he was a British civil engineer and artist who played an instrumental role in the development of the early infrastructure of 19th century Singapore and New Zealand. On his arrival in Auckland in February in 1856 on the 'Ashmore' he found that his reputation in Singapore had preceded him and he was offered the position of chief surveyor of Otago. Only the coast of Otago had previously been mapped, and Thomson accepted the challenge of exploring and mapping this huge territory. He arrived in Dunedin to take up the office in May 1856, his first survey was the New River Estuary, this was followed by Invercargill.

From 1856 to 1858 Thomson travelled extensively on horseback surveying and exploring large sections of the interior of the South Island, covering most of the southern part of the island. He was a keen and prolific artist and he documented these journeys with pencil sketches in his field books, years later using them to complete watercolours, many of them humorous. May 1876 he became New Zealand's first Surveyor General, he retired from this position in 1879 at the age of 58.

By marriage he was related to the Hall-Jones family, whose number included William Hall-Jones, a former Prime Minister of New Zealand. Thomson was responsible for the planning of the city of Invercargill, his descendants have written numerous books which contain authoritative information on his life in New Zealand, his great grandson was the author and historian John Hall-Jones.

In 1857 Nathaniel accompanied the surveyor and explorer John Turnbull Thomson to Fiordland, through the Waiau Valley to the Takitimu Range, then east to the summit of Centre Hill from where Lake Te Anau and Lake Manapouri could be seen. That evening Thomson recorded that Nat Bates lit a camp fire, and the wood hens came out. Nat decided that a wood hen would make an addition to their salt pork and his attempt was sketched by Thompson and entitled Nat Bates trying to snare a weka for the pot at Centre Hill, 1857.

324 MACKWORTH, WILLIAM

Miniature Portraits [2x]

Two miniature oval portraits, both of William Mackworth as a young man, one a watercolour with him seated holding a telescope across his arms. 134 x 195mm, in the original brass mount and leather frame.
The other an oil of him holding a baton. 100 x 85mm, in a Victorian tooled leather mount.
Provenance - From the Downes family who were direct descendants of William Mackworth, family provenance says that these miniatures have been attributed to one of the Valpy sisters, Juliet Valpy, Mackworth's wife, was a known New Zealand artist. The portraits both appear in the 'The Enderby settlement Diaries' [1999]. The original Mackworth Diaries are in the Turnbull library [1849-1852]
*William Mackworth sailed on the 'Fancy' to Hardwicke Settlement at Port Ross in the Auckland Islands in 1849 where at the age of 24 he became assistant commissioner to Charles Enderby, who had been the driving force in setting up what he hoped would be a major whaling base and a thriving agricultural settlement. The stress of work, maintaining law and order in the colony, combined with living in such a bleak location, as recorded in his diary, took its toll on his health. The settlement and the whaling both failed, the ships were inadequate, the crews mutinous, and there was much drunkenness and disorder. On 4th August 1852 the settlement was closed down, one hundred and twenty three seamen and ninety-two colonists sailed with William Mackworth to Dunedin, New Zealand, here William married his fiancée Juliet Valpy. Mackworth wrote in his diary on 4th August: 'At sea. Calm all night ... The satisfaction I feel at this moment is beyond description. My miserable life at Port Ross will never be forgotten.' Maori and Moriori left four years later, in March 1856, their Chatham Island families chartered a ship to pick up those who remained.
William and his wife visited England in 1853/4 and then sailed from Bristol to Melbourne. William died of typhoid fever in Melbourne on 4th December 1855. He was thirty years old. Te Ara

Conditions of Sale

ART + OBJECT

Please note: it is assumed that all bidders at auction have read and agreed to the conditions described on this page. ART+OBJECT directors are available during the auction viewing to clarify any questions you may have.

1.

Registration: Only registered bidders may bid at auction. You are required to complete a bidding card or absentee bidding form prior to the auction giving your correct name, address and telephone contact + supplementary information such as email addresses that you may wish to supply to ART+OBJECT

2.

Bidding: The highest bidder will be the purchaser subject to the auctioneer accepting the winning bid and any vendor's reserve having been reached. The auctioneer has the right to refuse any bid. If this takes place or in the event of a dispute the auctioneer may call for bids at the previous lowest bid and proceed from this point. Bids advance at sums decreed by the auctioneer unless signaled otherwise by the auctioneer. No bids may be retracted. The auctioneer retains the right to bid on behalf of the vendor up to the reserve figure.

3.

Reserve: Lots are offered and sold subject to the vendor's reserve price being met.

4.

Lots offered and sold as described and viewed: ART+OBJECT makes all attempts to accurately describe and catalogue lots offered for sale. Notwithstanding this neither the vendor nor ART+OBJECT accepts any liability for errors of description or faults and imperfections whether described in writing or verbally. This applies to questions of authenticity and quality of the item. Buyers are deemed to have inspected the item thoroughly and proceed on their own judgment. The act of bidding is agreed by the buyer to be an indication that they are satisfied on all counts regarding condition and authenticity.

5.

Buyers premium: The purchaser by bidding acknowledges their acceptance of a buyers premium of 18.5% plus GST on the premium to be added to the hammer price in the event of a successful sale at auction. Please consult the relevant auction catalogue to confirm the premium for each sale.

6.

ART+OBJECT is an agent for a vendor: A+O has the right to conduct the sale of an item on behalf of a vendor. This may include withdrawing an item from sale for any reason.

7.

Payment: Successful bidders are required to make full payment immediately post sale – being either the day of the sale or the following day. If for any reason payment is delayed then a 20% deposit is required immediately and the balance to 100% required within 3 working days of the sale date. Payment can be made by Eftpos, bank cheque or cash. Cheques must be cleared before items are available for collection. Credit cards are not accepted.

8.

Failure to make payment: If a purchaser fails to make payment as outlined in point 7 above ART+OBJECT may without any advice to the purchaser exercise its right to: a) rescind or stop the sale, b) re offer the lot for sale to an underbidder or at auction. ART+OBJECT reserves the right to pursue the purchaser for any difference in sale proceeds if this course of action is chosen, c) to pursue legal remedy for breach of contract.

9.

Collection of goods: Purchased items are to be removed from ART+OBJECT premises immediately after payment or clearance of cheques. Absentee bidders must make provision for the uplifting of purchased items (see instructions on the facing page)

10.

Bidders obligations: The act of bidding means all bidders a knowledge that they are personally responsible for payment if they are the successful bidder. This includes all registered absentee or telephone bidders. Bidders acting as an agent for a third party must obtain written authority from ART+OBJECT and provide written instructions from any represented party and their express commitment to pay all funds relating to a successful bid by their nominated agent.

11.

Bids under reserve & highest subject bids:

When the highest bid is below the vendor's reserve this work may be announced by the auctioneer as sold 'subject to vendor's authority' or some similar phrase. The effect of this announcement is to signify that the highest bidder will be the purchaser at the bid price if the vendor accepts this price. If this highest bid is accepted then the purchaser has entered a contract to purchase the item at the bid price plus any relevant buyers premium.

Important advice for buyers

The following information does not form part of the conditions of sale, however buyers, particularly first time bidders are recommended to read these notes.

A.

Bidding at auction:

Please ensure your instructions to the auctioneer are clear and easily understood. It is well to understand that during a busy sale with multiple bidders the auctioneer may not be able to see all bids at all times. It is recommended that you raise your bidding number clearly and without hesitation. If your bid is made in error or you have misunderstood the bidding level please advise the auctioneer immediately of your error – prior to the hammer falling. Please note that if you have made a bid and the hammer has fallen and you are the highest bidder you have entered a binding contract to purchase an item at the bid price. New bidders in particular are advised to make themselves known to the sale auctioneer who will assist you with any questions about the conduct of the auction.

B.

Absentee bidding: ART+OBJECT welcomes absentee bids once the necessary authority has been completed and lodged with ART+OBJECT. A+O will do all it can to ensure bids are lodged on your behalf but accepts no liability for failure to carry out these bids. See the Absentee bidding form in this catalogue for information on lodging absentee bids. These are accepted up to 2 hours prior to the published auction commencement.

C.

Telephone bids: The same conditions apply to telephone bids. It is highly preferable to bid over a landline as the vagaries of cellphone connections may result in disappointment. You will be telephoned prior to your indicated lot arising in the catalogue order. If the phone is engaged or connection impossible the sale will proceed without your bidding. At times during an auction the bidding can be frenetic so you need to be sure you give clear instructions to the person executing your bids. The auctioneer will endeavour to cater to the requirements of phone bidders but cannot wait for a phone bid so your prompt participation is requested.

D.

New Zealand dollars: All estimates in this catalogue are in New Zealand dollars. The amount to be paid by successful bidders on the payment date is the New Zealand dollar amount stated on the purchaser invoice. Exchange rate variations are at the risk of the purchaser.
