Welcome to A+O's final catalogue of 2012 – a storehouse of important New Zealand Taonga, photography, maps and publications. Over the last few years we have noticed a decided increase in interest in the foundation images and books that relate to New Zealand history from the late 1700s to the early 20th century. The auction in November 2011 of the magnificent private library assembled by A.T. Pycroft (1875 – 1971) was one of the most memorable and well attended in the company's history.

Henry Colin Balneavis (1819 – 1876) died one year after the birth of A.T. Pycroft. Balneavis was a distinguished soldier, historian, public and civic leader and an active participant at some of the decisive moments of New Zealand's mid 18th century history. His personal archive of artwork and his meticulous journal are packed with rare artworks by some of New Zealand's earliest colonial artists such as John Gilfillan, Joseph Jenner Merrett and Cuthbert Clarke (lot 275). The tiny output of these artists is mostly held in public art galleries and libraries. To find such a concentration of early artwork and documents relating to New Zealand in the 1840s is an occasion for some celebration. Please note that significant sections of the Balneavis Journal have been transcribed and are available on request. Students of New Zealand history will find the passages relating to Ohaeawai, Ruapekapeka and the Whanganui conflict absolutely fascinating.

Masterpiece is a term most usually reserved for major artworks by our leading painters and sculptors. However, how else can the two magnificent carved figural boards by Tene Waitere (1853/54 – 1931) be described? Carved in 1903 for the geyser observation rotunda at Whakarewarewa these two sculptures display the Ngati Tarawhai master's expressive skills to their fullest – demonstrating the flexibility of this great Maori artist to observe his artistic whakapapa and embrace European concepts of naturalistic sculpture seamlessly (lots 550 & 551). In many ways these works by Waitere reconcile the two cultures that were engaging fitfully fifty years earlier as revealed in the Balneavis archive. This catalogue is indeed a history lesson.

Late Night Viewing – Monday December 3

We invite you to join us for a glass of Seresin Wine and a chat in a relaxed atmosphere on Monday December 3 from 5.30 - 7.30pm. It will be a chance for the A+O team to thank our clients and friends for their support and encouragement in 2012.

Finally the ART+OBJECT team would like to wish you all a very happy, safe and enjoyable Christmas and a New Year full of wishes coming true.

Land Purchase Agreement 1840

Agreement to purchase lamd for Russell, New Zealand's First Capital, March 1840.

Conditional purchase agreement between HM Government and Captain Clendon for property owned by Clendon at Okaito, Bay of Islands, dated 22 March 1840 with the name of Matthew Felton. The agreement contains a later conditional clause dated 23 April 1840 and signed by Lieutenant Governor Hobson. Verso inscribed "Copy Contract H", and annotated in pencil with calculations that appear to relate to the two initial payments of 1,000 pounds to Clendon, paper watermarked "Harris & Trendlett 1838". 1p hand written foolscap in writing which has similarities to Governor Hobson's hand.

Provenance: James Reddy Clendon, the Mair family Auckland, and in private collections since the 1950's. Captain Clendon was an important figure in early New Zealand history, he commenced trading aound New Zealand as early as 1818, he acted as a United States Consul in the Bay of Islands 1839-1841. Clendon was a witness to the Maori Declaration of Independance of 1835 and the Treaty of Waitangi. Although representing the United States government he actively supported Busby & Williams in winning over the chiefs to the treaty. Following the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi the decision was made to fix the seat of government temporarily in the Bay of Islands. Felton Matthew as acting Surveyor General reported that Okaito where J.R. Clendon had his dwelling and store was 'the only spot in the Bay of Islands which is at all suitable for settlement of calculated for the purposes of the government"; and eventutally the above agreement was made to purchase this site for 15 000 pounds. The Government took possession in May and "Russell" [as Okaito was renamed] remained the seat of government until the removal to Auckland in 1841. A rare certified contemporary clerical copy with additional annotations relating to the purchase. Likely Clendon's own copy . Ruth Ross - New Zealand's First Capital, 1946, p40 note 94 refers to the missing Okaito papers from the Clendon MSS. $2000 - $4000

275. The Balneavis Archive

These documents have passed by direct family descent from Lieut. Colonel Henry Colin Balneavis (1818 – 1876). H. C. Balneavis arrived in New Zealand as an officer of the 58th Regiment shortly after the sack of Kororareka in 1845. He was present at the assaults of and Ohaeawai and Ruapekapeka where he commanded the advance picket. Balneavis is documented as being the first officer to realise that the Pa had been abandoned. From these momentous events he then travelled south and served conspicuously in the Whanganui wars in the immediate aftermath of the Gilfillan murders. He retired in 1858 to Maraetai, having completed 20 years service and was a recipient of the New Zealand War Medal in 1876.

When the Waikato war broke out he rejoined the army and was instrumental in the formation of the Waikato militia and was engaged in active service between 1862-64 and attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. In later life he held the offices of Sheriff of Auckland and Returning Officer. He was also a scholar writing a number of papers on Maori Pa and fortifications. In 1851 a scale model of a Maori fighting Pa was exhibited at the Great Exhibition in London. This model was based on Balneavis first hand observations at Ohaeawai and Ruapekapeka. In addition he was well known as a linguist speaking fluent Maori, Arabic, Maltese, French and Italian. On his death in 1876 the flags of Auckland flew at half-mast in recognition of the many contributions made to the city and country in the mid 19th century.

Note: The catalogued items detailed below form a selection of highlights as detailed in the over 100 pages of the Balneavis Scrapbook. A complete catalogue is available in email format upon request.

The H.C. Balneavis Scrapbook of Important New Zealand Colonial artwork and documents.

Consisting of approx. 120 pages material with copious handwritten notes relating to the Colonel's early life in Malta (his father Lieut-General Henry Balneavis was twice acting Governor of the colony) and New Zealand in the period 1846 – 1876.

The early pages of the scrapbook consist mainly of cuttings of graphics of Maltese scenes including a map of the harbour of Valletta.

p.27 John Gilfillan (1793-1863)

War Dance graphite on paper title inscribed, signed and dated 1847 160 x 305mm (illustrated above)

Note: The Te Papa collection holds a similar image dated 1851 by Thomas John Grant, a Captain in the 58th Regiment who saw service alongside H. C. Balneavis. The Grant graphite and watercolour is a near exact copy of the Gilfillan War Dance image. Another version of the Gilfillan is also held in the Hocken Library Collection.

The Gilfillan or Matarawa killings are regarded as the catalyst for the Whanganui war. John Gilfillan and his wife Mary and six children settled on 110 acres in the Matarawa valley near Whanganui in late 1845. A number of reasons have been forwarded for the events which culminated in the murder of Mary Gilfillan and three of their offspring in April 1847. The leading theory is that it was a reprisal for the shooting on April 16 of a young upriver maori named Hapurona Ngarangi by a naval cadet named H.E. Crozier from the gunboat HMS Calliope. The Maori warrior ultimately survived but in the immediate aftermath of the incident feelings were running high and it has been theorised that the Gilfillan family was simply an available and isolated target for revenge.

Untitled - A rainy day rowing on the Wanganui ink on paper inscribed ...illegible 65th Wanganui... illegible 185 x 255mm

Note: this scene may depict officers or soldiers from the 65th Regiment, known as the Royal Tigers who were active in Whanganui in 1847.

p.51 Joseph Jenner Merrett (1816 – 1854)

A Maori warrior with full moko holding a large mere watercolour and graphite on paper 300 x 195mm (illustrated on cover)

Note: Joseph Jenner Merrett was one of the earliest New Zealand based artists to have his work widely distributed via lithographs published in Charles Terry's New Zealand published in 1842. Merrett travelled widely within the North Island painting Maori subjects and working as an interpreter and surveyor. He enjoyed the patronage of Governor Grey and many of his drawings were lithographed for wider circulation, most notably in the frontispiece to Johan Dieffenbach's Travels in New Zealand vol. II of 1843. His works are held in the collections of the Auckland Art Gallery, The Auckland War Memorial Museum, the Turnbull and the Hocken Libraries.

p.55 A. Stephen?

Position occupied by the Natives on 19th July at St. John's Wood Ink on paper inscribed sketch by A. Stephen Esq. Wanganui

145 x 168mm

Note: July 19 & 20 1847 is the date of the 'Battle of St John's Wood' which occurred when up to 700 M ori led by Te Mamaku clashed with an equal force of British Regulars from the 65th Regiment. H.C. Balneavis is recorded as being present at this action. This battle is directly related to the killing of John Gilfillan's family for which four upper Whanganui River Maori were executed in April 1847. The Alexander Turnbull Library collection holds a painting by George Hyde Page of the scene which depicts a near identical view of the headland depicted in this ink sketch. There is also a watercolour version in the Fletcher Trust Collection.

p.79 Shera – Balneavis, marriage notice of the wedding of John Shera to Jemima eldest daughter of H. C Balneavis at St Paul's Church Auckland on 17th April 1873. To this cutting Balneavis has inscribed in ink a list of wedding guests and the fact that 12 carriages were required.

- Blunden Balneavis, marriage notice of the wedding of Edward Blunden, third son of Sir John Blunden, Kilkenny, Ireland to Georgina third daughter of H. C Balneavis at St Paul's Church on May 1 1873. To this cutting Balneavis has inscribed in ink a list of wedding guests – only five carriages were required on this occasion.
- p.83 Bree Balneavis, marriage notice of the wedding of Miles Reginald Bree to Louisa second daughter of H. C Balneavis at St Peter's Caversham, Dunedin on November 5th 1873. There is a touching handwritten note by Balneavis under this announcement detailing his sorrow at not being able to attend his daughter's wedding. This page also includes the very sad news of the death in infancy of their daughter Ida in 1875
- p.85 Baker Balneavis, marriage notice of the wedding of William Baker of Oamaru to Mary youngest daughter of H. C Balneavis at Gore on June 17th 1876. To this announcement Balneavis has annotated a rather terse note that this marriage took place 'without anyone's consent'. It seems Mary had met Mr. Baker whilst visiting her sister Louisa.
- p.96 Notice of the death of Lieutenant Colonel Henry Colin Balneavis dated August 26, 1876 at Symonds Street, Auckland.

p.100 The Treaty of Waitangi printed in English and Maori, 1844
 Auckland – Christopher Fulton – Government printer
 260 x 135mm

This is the first separate bilingual printing of the Treaty of Waitangi, and it follows the first printed version of the English text (accompanying the Maori text) that appeared in 1841. The Treaty was first signed on 6 February 1840. There are nine copies of the Treaty extant: the one originally signed at Waitangi and eight other signed copies, including one that is printed. All contain the names of chiefs (together with their signatures, moko or marks) who wished to signify their agreement to the treaty.

On 7 November 1844 George Clarke, Protector of Aborigines sought approval from the Colonial Secretary to print fifty copies of the Waitangi Treaty to be distributed among the chiefs of the Northern parts of the country. Govt. printer Christopher Fulton printed this copy in November 1844. Of the original fifty printed four are extant, housed at the Auckland Public, Auckland War Memorial Museum, and Alexander Turnbull Libraries, and at the Hocken Library. In November 2011 a further copy was offered in the ART+OBJECT auction catalogue of the collection of A.T. Pycroft.

Rutland Stockade, Wanganui, New Zealand (Pukeuanui) plan in ink and wash on paper, circa 1847 200 x 335mm

Note: In 1846 European Settlers had constructed their own 'Lower Stockade' in response to the fighting in Wellington. When Te Mamaku returned to the Whanganui River in late September 1846 he assured Whanganui's 200 settlers that he would protect them so long as no soldiers were stationed there. The British reacted by building the Rutland Stockade, which was completed in April 1847. Two blockhouses were added later. Manned by the Rutlandshire Regiment, the stockade dominated the Whanganui landscape until the withdrawal of the last of the British regiments – the 18th (Royal Irish) - in early 1870. The smaller York Stockade was built in June/July 1847.

p.117 Cuthbert Clarke attributed

E. Tararo tene Waka graphite and china white highlights on paper title inscribed and signed (it is possible that the signature is descriptive in a later hand) circa 1850 $200 \times 340 \text{mm}$

Cuthbert Charles Clarke (1818 – 1863) was the son of a naval surgeon who arrived in New Zealand in April 1849. In August 1849 he accompanied Sir George Grey to the Bay of Islands for a Maori feast at Kerikeri. In December 1849 he accompanied Grey to Thames and them overland to Taranaki. He was later employed as a customs clerk in Auckland before departing for Melbourne in 1851.

The H.C. Balneavis Journal

A 258 page handwritten account of the history of the Balneavis family and the journal of H.C. Balneavis' service in the 58th Regiment in New Zealand.

Inscribed: This Book if for my son John Henry Balneavis. H.C. Balneavis August 1875

330 x 210mm

Note: This important eyewitness account of many of the key military engagements of the 1840s in Northland and Whanganui details Balneavis firsthand experience of the sieges of Ohaeawai and Ruapekapeka Pas and numerous important events of the period.

A partial transcript of the journal is available on request. An important passage from July 1845 reads...

Conditions of sale

Please note: it is assumed that all bidders at auction have read and agreed to the conditions described on this page.

ART+OBIECT directors are available during the auction viewing to clarify any questions you may have.

Registration: Only registered bidders may bid at auction. You are required to complete a bidding card or absentee bidding form prior to the auction giving your correct name, address and telephone contact + supplementary information such as email addresses that you may wish to supply to ART+OBJECT

2.

Bidding: The highest bidder will be the purchaser subject to the auctioneer accepting the winning bid and any vendor's reserve having been reached. The auctioneer has the right to refuse any bid. If this takes place or in the event of a dispute the auctioneer may call for bids at the previous lowest bid and proceed from this point. Bids advance at sums decreed by the auctioneer unless signaled otherwise by the auctioneer. No bids may be retracted. The auctioneer retains the right to bid on behalf of the vendor up to the reserve figure.

3.

Reserve: Lots are offered and sold subject to the vendor's reserve price being met.

4.

Lots offered and sold as described and viewed: ART+OBJECT makes all attempts to accurately describe and catalogue lots offered for sale. Notwithstanding this neither the vendor nor ART+OBJECT accepts any liability for errors of description or faults and imperfections whether described in writing or verbally. This applies to questions of authenticity and quality of the item. Buyers are deemed to have inspected the item thoroughly and proceed on their own judgment. The act of bidding is agreed by the buyer to be an indication that they are satisfied on all counts regarding condition and authenticity.

Buyers premium: The purchaser by bidding acknowledges their acceptance of a buyers premium of 18.5% + GST for lots 1–472 and 15% + GST for lots 500–718 on the premium to be added to the hammer price in the event of a successful sale at auction.

6.

ART+OBJECT is an agent for a vendor: A+O has the right to conduct the sale of an item on behalf of a vendor. This may include withdrawing an item from sale for any reason.

7.

Payment: Successful bidders are required to make full payment immediately post sale – being either the day of the sale or the following day. If for any reason payment is delayed then a 20% deposit is required immediately and the balance to 100% required within 3 working days of the sale date. Payment can be made by Eftpos, bank cheque or cash. Cheques must be cleared before items are available for collection. Credit cards are not accepted.

Failure to make payment: If a purchaser fails to make payment as outlined in point 7 above ART+OBJECT may without any advice to the purchaser exercise its right to: a) rescind or stop the sale, b) re offer the lot for sale to an underbidder or at auction. ART+OBJECT reserves the right to pursue the purchaser for any difference in sale proceeds if this course of action is chosen, c) to pursue legal remedy for breach of contract.

Collection of goods: Purchased items are to be removed from ART+OBJECT premises immediately after payment or clearance of cheques. Absentee bidders must make provision for the uplifting of purchased items (see instructions on the facing page) 10.

Bidders obligations: The act of bidding means all bidders acknowledge that they are personally responsible for payment if they are the successful bidder. This includes all registered absentee or telephone bidders. Bidders acting as an agent for a third party must obtain written authority from ART+OBJECT and provide written instructions from any represented party and their express commitment to pay all funds relating to a successful bid by their nominated agent.

11

Bids under reserve & highest subject bids: When the highest bid is below the vendor's reserve this work may be announced by the auctioneer as sold 'subject to vendor's authority' or some similar phrase. The effect of this announcement is to signify that the highest bidder will be the purchaser at the bid price if the vendor accepts this price. If this highest bid is accepted then the purchaser has entered a contract to purchase the item at the bid price plus any relevant buyers premium.

Important advice for buyers

The following information does not form part of the conditions of sale, however buyers, particularly first time bidders are recommended to read these notes.

Α.

Bidding at auction: Please ensure your instructions to the auctioneer are clear and easily understood. It is well to understand that during a busy sale with multiple bidders the auctioneer may not be able to see all bids at all times. It is recommended that you raise your bidding number clearly and without hesitation. If your bid is made in error or you have misunderstood the bidding level please advise the auctioneer immediately of your error — prior to the hammer falling. Please note that if you have made a bid and the hammer has fallen and you are the highest bidder you have entered a binding contract to purchase an item at the bid price. New bidders in particular are advised to make themselves known to the sale auctioneer who will assist you with any questions about the conduct of the auction

В

Absentee bidding: ART+OBJECT welcomes absentee bids once the necessary authority has been completed and lodged with ART+OBJECT. A+O will do all it can to ensure bids are lodged on your behalf but accepts no liability for failure to carry out these bids. See the Absentee bidding form in this catalogue for information on lodging absentee bids. These are accepted up to 4 hours prior to the published auction commencement.

C.

Telephone bids: The same conditions apply to telephone bids. It is highly preferable to bid over a landline as the vagaries of cellphone connections may result in disappointment. You will be telephoned prior to your indicated lot arising in the catalogue order. If the phone is engaged or connection impossible the sale will proceed without your bidding. At times during an auction the bidding can be frenetic so you need to be sure you give clear instructions to the person executing your bids. The auctioneer will endeavour to cater to the requirements of phone bidders but cannot wait for a phone bid so your prompt participation is requested.

D.

New Zealand dollars: All estimates in this catalogue are in New Zealand dollars. The amount to be paid by successful bidders on the payment date is the New Zealand dollar amount stated on the purchaser invoice. Exchange rate variations are at the risk of the purchaser.
